STILL HOLDS HIS OWN

The Pope Yesterday Participated in Mass.

The Pontiff Sleeps at Intervals, But Is Not Tranquil at All Times.

YESTERDAY WAS UNEVENTFUL

Rome, July 13, 6.15 a. m.—The condition of the pope was stationary during the night. He slept at intervals, but was not entirely tranquil.

Rome, July 13.—Pope Leo has lived to see another Sunday, and with the Sabbath quiet which fell upon Rome came also peace and even progress to the pontiff. Beginning this morning with distinct signs of improvement, he maintained this throughout the day. Tonight Dr. Lappini made the following important statement in answer to the question if he believed that the improvement in the pope's condition could continue:

"I believe that if the improvement lasts until July 21, we may not perhaps achieve an absolute cure, but we will secure such a general state of health in the patient as will allay our anxiety."

During the morning the pontiff participated in the celebration of mass. The ceremony was held in the chapel adjoining the sick chamber, Monsignor Mazzoni being the celebrant. The door connecting the sick room with the chapel was opened so that his holiness might follow the service. He insisted that Dr. Lappini and his valet, Centra, should leave his side, and enter the chapel in order to better hear the mass.

The history of the day has been comparatively uneventful. The pontiff had several hours repose, Dr. Lappini resting near him throughout the night. The physician twice administered injections to him, once of digitalis to strengthen the heart, and once of camphor caffeine to overcome the patient's growing depression. This morning found the pontiff with spirits bright and the condition generally improved. Dr. Mazzoni joined his assistant at 8.30 a. m. and after a brief conference issued the most encouraging official bulletin thus far given out. Besides summarizing the satisfactory pathological conditions, the doctor gave the cheering ruling that the pontiff's condition had manifestly improved. The pulse, which went down yesterday to 82, had risen to 85, while temperature and respiration showed no abnormal characteristics.

PUTTING THEM BACK.

OLD TELEPHONE BEING INSTALLED TODAY BY THE DOCTORS.

The doctors are today preparing to put back their East Tennessee telephones, and it is understood nearly all of them will have the old 'phone in by tomorrow. One of them gave an explanation that many of them did not desire to change in the first place, and as others had failed to keep the agreement they had decided that all who desired could use both 'phones, or whichever they wanted.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

Cincinnati, July 13.—Mrs. Annie Oppenheimer was today held without bail on a charge of first degree murder.

Taylor, the Alleged Forger, Seems to be a Bad Man.

Judge Sanders Assesses a Heavy Fine Against a Man for Misbehaving on a Car.

OTHER POLICE COURT NEWS

Marshal James Crow this morning received a letter from Mr. E. J. Conroy, superintendent of police of Minneapolis, Minn., relative to George W. Taylor, who is now in jail here awaiting the action of the court on a forgery charge.

Taylor a short time ago passed a check on the proprietor of the Commercial house signed by Mr. Coffee of the Paducah Gas Works, which turned out to be a forgery. Taylor was arrested, photographs taken and with a description sent to the publishers of the Detective, a police journal. The Minneapolis authorities saw the picture and the description and think Taylor is the same man who forged several checks in Minneapolis nearly a year ago.

The following firms were given as victims: Henry Wiskoff & Co., Twin City Paint Co., Moffett Paint Co., Isaac Weil & Co., W. K. Morrison & Co. All checks were for comparatively small amounts and were passed about in the same way.

Taylor, it was explained, would appear at the store in the garb of a painter, and, as previous to this a message had been received over the telephone that a painter was coming to secure an order of paint, the check presented would be unsuspectingly paid by the clerks. An investigation made by the Minneapolis authorities has convinced them that Taylor is the same man. If the suspicions of the Minnesota authorities are correct Taylor will likely have several more charges to face. He told several before getting into trouble here that he had been in Minneapolis before coming here. Taylor seems to be suffering from consumption and a few days ago had a severe hemorrhage in jail.

Lon Helt, a bartender, found today that it is not much fun getting drunk, rearing and cursing in the presence of ladies and gentlemen on a street car. About two weeks ago, it is alleged, he made himself very obnoxious in the presence of a car full of people near Ninth and Broadway, and Motorman Walter Burroughs asked him to desist. Instead of doing so he became more abusive than ever, and when he started to assault the motorman he was struck in the face with the switch key and had his nose split. He subsequently attempted to get to the motor platform of the car and kept there by Prof. George O. McBroon and other passengers. Judge Sanders this morning fined Helt $50 and costs and dismissed the case against the motorman, and stated incidentally that he believed street car men had a right to use necessary force in quieting people when they acted in such a manner, and that he would so hold when they are brought before him.

Charles Burns and Edith Bensley, white, were arrested near First and Broadway Saturday night on the charge of carrying concealed a pistol. They were given a hearing this morning in police court and the former fined $50 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail and the latter's case left open. Burns was granted an appeal. He claims the girl handed him the pistol when she saw the police coming.

John Underwood, colored, who cut Charles Robertson, colored, Saturday night in the neck between Washington and Court streets on South Seventh, was arraigned on a charge of malicious cutting with intent to kill in Judge Sanders' court and the case left open after hearing the commonwealth's testimony.

Information has been received that Thomas Tyner, son of Capt. Tyner of the Buttorff, who is wanted here on two charges of forgery, is also wanted

ASLEEP ON THE TRACK

Colored Laborer Struck and Killed Near Stiles.

Lester C. Phifer, a Former Soldier, the Name of the Victim Thus Killed.

THE INQUEST HELD TODAY

Lester C. Phifer, colored, lately discharged from the U. S. army, was run over and instantly killed on the I. C. road near Stiles, Louisville division, last night by a local freight train.

The negro was run over by freight No. 151, in charge of Conductor Kinkie, Engineer Henry Frisz and Fireman Tim Austin about 8 o'clock last night on a curve where the negro had gone to sleep. The train was making good time and when the curve was reached Engineer Frisz saw the man sitting on the rails, head down, and immediately turned off steam and used every possible means to stop the train and prevent striking the sleeper. The wheels cut the body in two just at the waist and killed the man instantly.

Coroner William Peal of this city was sent for and left this morning with the train crew for Stiles to hold an inquest.

The negro had been working about the section at Stiles for several days and formerly wore an army suit which, it is understood, he sold Saturday. From information secured from persons who had seen him Sunday night it was learned that Phifer had been drinking and was evidently in a drunken stupor when killed. No information could be secured by the railroad authorities relative to his name and people, the man having been in that locality a short time only.

The body was brought to the city this morning and Coroner Peal held an inquest, the verdict being that he came to his death while sitting asleep on an I. C. track in an intoxicated condition, a train striking him, and that no one is to blame for the accident. The remains will probably be buried in the county graveyard here.

In Clarksville, where he is alleged to have cashed a worthless forged check for $80. He will be prosecuted there if caught.

Mary Walker, colored, was fined $10 and costs for being drunk and disorderly and George Parker $1 and costs for drunkenness in the police court today.

THREE KILLED, MANY HURT.

Kansas City, July 13.—The fast mail from St. Louis on the Missouri Pacific crashed into an excursion train that had broken down at "Dead Man's Curve," three miles from Lee's Summit. Three tramps were killed and fifty negroes injured.

Miss Ada Bennett is very ill at her home, 1223 Monroe street.

Work on the Government Building Addition Begins in Earnest.

PART OF POSTOFFICE CLOSED

The government building yard presents a scene of unwonted activity this morning, work in earnest having begun on the addition to the custom house, which is to cost something near $100,000 when complete. The tool house and office erected in the north-western corner of the yard has been completed and stairs have been constructed to one of the windows on the north side of the building and it has been converted into a door for the carriers and mail.

The west side, facing the new fraternity building, is to be closed today, as excavations are to be made on that side, which will prevent its being longer used. This will effect quite a change about the building, as that side has been used by the carriers, mail wagon drivers and others since the building was completed many years ago, and by the public on Sunday when they went for their mail.

The yard is being filled with hoisting apparatus, machines of various descriptions for handling the heavy material, and there are other things yet to arrive. Some delay was occasioned by the burning of the Tennessee river bridge, preventing the arrival of material and machinery, but there will be little delay now.

Contractor Bailey says that he will have the addition completed by next June, which will make it a quick job. There is always much bad weather in winter, which will delay the work, but Mr. Bailey knows his business and says his contract will be complete in less than a year. The present government building required three years to complete, but building methods have greatly improved since then, and the same amount of work can be done much quicker.

Contracts for the one story addition on the court of the Brook Hill building for the use of W. C. Gray for his cafe have been let. J. W. Lockwood has contract for the building, the Davis Sheet Iron Metal Works for the metal work and Flannigan & Hiedewitz of Evansville for the art glass.

Architect William Brainerd is making plans for a cottage for Dr. A. W. Crenshaw at Cadiz, to cost $1,500.

COOK WILL WIN.

Frankfort, July 13.—The best information this morning is that Cook will win in the Calloway contest for the circuit judgeship nomination to be settled today.

Mr. Clarence Knowles, of the I. C. Louisville division, was in the city yesterday on business.

NOBODY'S RACE YET

More Votes Uninstructed Than Anticipated.

A Majority of Them Goes to Belknap, of Louisville—All Are Confident.

CONVENTIONS IS WEDNESDAY

THE FIGURES FROM FRANKFORT
Frankfort, July 13.—Estimates on the delegates to the Republican state convention at Louisville next Wednesday that were elected at 95 of the 119 county conventions Saturday show that out of the 2,281 there 1,125 instructed, as follows:

Belknap, 702; Willson, 196; Pratt, 227; uninstructed, 859, and 201 not heard from. As it will require 1,142 to nominate and it is claimed that Belknap, the leader, cannot reach that point and will not allow Willson to be nominated, there is much talk of Judge Burnham as a compromise candidate.

JUDGE PRATT

SAYS HE WILL GET KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

Frankfort, July 13.—Judge Clifton J. Pratt, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at the convention in Louisville next Wednesday, has returned here. Concerning his chances he said:

"Reports received by me from the county conventions of Saturday over the state assure me of at least one-half of the uninstructed vote. Many counties have not yet reported, which I am sure will give me first instructions. I am well pleased with the situation and am in the fight to the end."

GATHERING FOR THE FRAY.

Louisville, July 13.—The Republicans are gathering for their convention. Judge Pratt was the first to open headquarters in room 101, Willard hotel, at noon today. Mr. McKenzie took charge of his headquarters.

Mr. Yerkes, leader of the Belknap forces, arrived this morning and is at the Gilt house, from which place the Belknap campaign will be directed. Mr. Willson has not yet decided on a place for his headquarters.

The Hopkins county delegation, thirty strong, which will push the candidacy of Judge Pratt, has arranged for headquarters at the Willard. John W. Langley of Prestonsburg will arrive from Washington tonight. He has been mentioned as temporary chairman. Judge George Denny, who will look after Judge Burnham's lightning rod, has also taken a room at the Willard.

Belknap has on the face of figures 698 votes instructed, Pratt has 312 and Willson 170. Three claim 827 votes uninstructed and 261 unreported, making a total of 2,268. The winning candidate must receive 1,135 votes. W. C. Owen will be temporary chairman and probably Yerkes permanent chairman.

Louisville, July 13.—The Republican conventions held throughout Kentucky Saturday leave the gubernatorial contest an open race, as out of the 2,268 votes which will be cast in the state convention, to be held in Louisville Wednesday, Belknap has received 698, Willson 177, Pratt 167; counties uninstructed, 738; counties not reported, 494.

Of the uninstructed vote Belknap is known to have 146 1-3, which would make his total, so far as known, 838 1-3; Willson 46 1-3, which would make his vote 243 1-3; Pratt 15 1-3, which would make his vote 172 1-3. These figures show that neither of the three avowed candidates can yet claim the prize as theirs and that in point of fact the uninstructed counties have in their hands the balance of power and will ultimately name the Republican standard bearer.

The only counties in which there are contesting delegations so far reported are Jefferson and Franklin. In Jefferson county Willson contests with

RACE NARROWS DOWN

Former Councilman Davis Declines to Run for Mayor.

Councilman Potter to Shortly Announce a List of Speakings.

YEISER HAS NOTHING TO SAY.

Former Councilman G. R. Davis created some little surprise yesterday morning by formally announcing in response to a call to run for the Democratic nomination for mayor, that he had decided not to run. He was almost persuaded to make the race until late Saturday which many of his friends knew, hence his declaration Sunday morning created considerable surprise.

It is told at the various political headquarters that Mayor D. A. Yeiser heaved a sigh of relief when he heard the news, that could have been heard to Cairo, and that he attended church more regularly yesterday than for ages. When asked about this today he said he went to church but further than this "had nothing to say."

While Mr. Davis does not say so, some of his friends declare that the Potter men were a little too enthusiastic over his prospective candidacy and he smelled a mouse. In other words, they wanted him to run because they thought it would split the Yeiser support and insure Colonel Potter's nomination.

A great many rumors are floating about. It is reported that the Potter men will exert every effort to get out somebody else whom they think would hurt Mayor Yeiser's candidacy. Councilman Ed Hannon is freely mentioned as a probable candidate, but he stated today to a reporter that he positively would not run.

Colonel Potter announced today that he would shortly announce a list of speakings, including one in every ward of the city, and would invite Mayor Yeiser to be present and "talk back." A reporter subsequently asked Mayor Yeiser if he would make any speeches in the campaign and he said that he wouldn't like to say until he had been invited. To be more explicit and more characteristic that "he had nothing to say."

It is said the Potter men are going to try to make the issue one of morality this fall, and will claim that Mayor Yeiser has been induced by the whiskey men, and has made them such pledges that he is insured their support.

The other men claim that the Potter crowd is "egging on" the law and order crowd to give the Yeiser administration a black eye, and that they will begin trying to use the material they are gathering pretty soon in the campaign in Colonel Potter's interest. There are charges and counter charges floating about, and a lot of good Democrats in Paducah openly declare they intend to vote the straight Republican ticket if a Republican who suits them is nominated, or stay at home if one is not.

It is understood this afternoon that a strong effort is being made to induce Mr. Davis to reconsider his decision and yet make the race, but nothing definite has developed in regard to his answer.

BRAKENEN LOST.

LEFT THE TRAIN NEAR HOAZ AND HAS NOT BEEN LOCATED.

A colored brakeman on Conductor Oscar Parker's train was lost somewhere between Mayfield and Hoaz, according to reports, last Friday and no trace of him has since been found. His name could not be learned but it is not known whether he simply got tired and quit his job or was injured or killed in the discharge of his duty.

WHOLESALE ARREST.

WILLSON INDORSED

Republicans of McCracken Held Their Convention.

Everything Harmonious and Several Enthusiastic Speeches Made.

CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE

The McCracken county Republican convention was held at the county court house Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock and was harmonious in every particular.

County Chairman F. M. Fisher called it to order, and after a few remarks on the bright outlook for the party. Prof. George O. McBroom was made permanent chairman and Attorney Ed Hubbard secretary. Prof. McBroom in accepting it thanked the convention, and expressed the hope that all would unite in the effort to rescue the state from the blighting influence of Goebelism and Beckhamism.

A committee on resolutions was appointed as follows: Messrs. Farley, Dyson, Burks, Husbands and Boswell. While waiting for it to report Mr. Will H. Farley was called on for a speech and made one of his stirring addresses, severely arraigning the Democratic state administration, and saying that never had the state of Kentucky been so notorious as now under the Beckham regime. He stated many Democrats openly expressed themselves as determined to scatter the Democratic brigades by voting for the Republican nominees in November, and the outlook for the party was very encouraging. He was loudly applauded.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

We, your committee, beg leave to submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, First. The Republicans of McCracken county in convention assembled, approve and ratify the call of the state central committee, for a convention to be held at Louisville, Ky., July 15, 1908.

2. We reaffirm our allegiance to the principles of the Republican party as enunciated in the platform of the last national convention and we pledge to it our continued support.

3. We congratulate the people on the prosperity of our glorious country and heartily endorse the wise, conservative and patriotic administration of President Roosevelt and approve of his policies as outlined in his messages and utterances.

4. We have the greatest confidence in the manly, courageous and sincere personality of the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt and gladly endorse his candidacy for re-election to the high office, he has so capably filled.

5. We condemn crime in all its forms and deplore the condition of affairs that have existed in Breathitt county. We advocate the upholding of the law under any and all circumstances, and believe there is a way to make it supreme. We charge that the Democratic administration in the state as well as in Breathitt county are responsible for the deplorable condition of affairs and the blot that has been placed upon the fair name of our state.

6. We pledge to the people a fair and untrammelled ballot, and promise if given the opportunity to make such laws as will guarantee to all citizens the right to vote as they please, and that it shall be counted as cast.

7. We pledge ourselves to encourage the investment of capital in our state; to protect the rights of both capital and labor and the liberties of all the people.

8. We condemn the extravagant expenditure of public funds, and especially do we condemn the employment of Attorney Calhoun and the enormous and unjust fee paid to him, and believe the transaction evidences gross carelessness or dishonorable methods of our public officials. Reposing the utmost confidence in the integrity, ability and patriotism of Hon. Augustus E. Willson, appreciating his years of service to his party, recognizing in him the qualifications to make an ideal candidate, we hereby instruct our delegates to vote for him for governor, and for them to use all efforts to aid him and secure his nomination.

10. Knowing that our fellow citizens, the Hon. George O. McBroom, has all the qualifications, and is especially qualified by reason of his long experience to make an exceptional good superintendent of public instruction; we take pleasure in presenting his name to the Republicans of Kentucky and ask that this end of the state be recognized by giving him this place on the ticket. We instruct our delegates to vote for him and to use every effort to secure his nomination.

11. We invite the co-operation of all voters to redeem our state from Democratic rule and to help us to place Kentucky among the foremost states of the union, by voting with us in November.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

J. J. Dorian, Captain Cook and John Moore were appointed a committee to report a list of delegates to the state convention, and while they were out several speeches were heard.

Elder Reed, colored, who stumped the state in the last gubernatorial campaign, made a few remarks.

Chairman McBroom addressed the meeting, and thanked those present for endorsing him for superintendent of public instruction. He declared that he would not, if elected, spend most of his time running about the state making a canvass for some other office, nor would he take money from a school book concern to pay the expenses. He expressed himself as favoring an eight or nine months county school term.

The committee reported the following list of delegates, who were appointed:

Dr. Frank Boyd, Prof. George O. McBroom, E. W. Pratt, Captain Ed Farley, Major J. H. Ashcraft, L. S. DuBois, J. J. Dorian, E. J. Paxton, Captain J. E. Williamson, C. C. Dyson, Ed Hubbard, F. M. Fisher, Dr. Graham, U. S. Whiston, Prof. James McQueen, Wade Brown, Dr. H. P. Sights, J. Henry Ballance, Dr. C. A. Isbell, Elder S. R. Reed, Elder G. H. Burks, Elder J. W. Hawkins, Milton Brooks, J. H. Moore, and C. W. Meriweather.

The convention went into the nomination of a candidate for the legislature to succeed W. C. Clark, Democrat and Mr. T. W. Dolberry nominated Mr. Earl Hazen, of the city, and Mr. Hazen was declared the nominee by acclamation.

The convention then adjourned.

WANTED.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and liver troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual constipation, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists.

NEED MANY RAILS

HALF A MILLION TONS ARE ALREADY CONTRACTED FOR.

It is said the actual amount of business already placed for steel rails for delivery in 1904 aggregates 550,000 tons. Few of the large railroad systems of the country have announced their intentions for 1904 so far as equipment is concerned, although the Pennsylvania and Harriman orders are regarded as a very good barometer of what the others will do in regard to rails. The actual tonnage placed will begin to reach large proportions in September, about the time of the year when the majority of the railroads place their 1904 equipment orders.

The Tennessee coal and iron company will cut no figure in the steel rail situation this year. It is said it will not be able to run to its full capacity of steel rails until the first of next year. The Lackawanna steel company is in a similar position.

THE PERFECT LIVER MEDICINE.

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years and can cheerfully recommend it is the most perfect liver medicine and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever-producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Annual Convention Was Held Here Yesterday.

Weather Interfered, But the Attendance Was Good—Officers Elected.

OTHER NEWS OF CHURCHES

The annual convention of the McCracken County Sunday School association was held at the First Christian church Sunday afternoon. Rain interfered with the attendance, but the session was an interesting one.

The following county officers were elected: Rev. George O. Bachman, pastor First Cumberland Presbyterian church, president; Prof. J. D. Smith, superintendent of the Broadway Methodist Sunday school, vice president; R. L. Tate, of the Tenth street Christian church, secretary and treasurer. The same officers were chosen for the city association, with the addition of a special city secretary and treasurer. Secretary Stuart B. Hanna of the Y. M. C. A. was selected to fill this office.

The opening exercises were conducted by Rev. T. C. Gebauer of Louisville, field worker for the Kentucky Sunday School association. The topic "We Must be Students of Our Work" was handled in a forceful and striking way by Stuart B. Hanna. A round table, in which some questions of interest to Sunday school workers were answered, was led by Rev. T. C. Gebauer. Mr. Gebauer's enthusiasm and understanding of his work gives an unusual inspiration to his leadership.

The topic "Our Greatest Need in Sunday School Work" was ably discussed by Mrs. Carrie A. Lehman of Louisville, Rev. George O. Bachman and Rev. T. J. Newell of this city. The reports from Sunday schools, while not full, were encouraging.

Mrs. C. A. Lehmann of Louisville, Kentucky representative of the Howard association of Prison Reform, spoke at many different places Sunday, both in the interest of her work and as an aid to other religious effort. Mrs. Lehmann has a pleasing personality and is a modest, attractive and earnest speaker.

The degree of doctor of divinity has been conferred on three local ministers the past year. They are: Rev. T. J. Newell of the Broadway Methodist church, Rev. G. W. Perryman of the First Baptist church and Rev. H. B. Johnston, preaching elder of the Paducah district of the Methodist church.

Rev. T. C. Gebauer of Louisville, field worker for the Kentucky Sunday School association, delivered an address at the German Evangelical church Sunday evening on "A Sunday School Teacher's Preparation for Work." It was instructive and interesting.

Rev. F. M. McGee of Spring Bayou, this county, preached at the Second Baptist church Sunday morning. A large audience heard the pastor, Rev. W. H. Robinson, Sunday evening in his sermon on local conditions.

Rev. V. L. Darby of Livermore, Ky., representing the Howard association for Kentucky, spoke in connection with Mrs. C. A. Lehmann of Louisville at the First Christian church Sunday morning.

Services will be held every day this week at the tent meeting being conducted by Rev. T. J. Owen in Mechanicsburg at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening.

No business of importance was transacted at the meeting of the Ministerial association in the study of Rev. G. W. Perryman of the First Baptist church this morning.

Interesting services were held Sunday at the tent meeting in Mechanicsburg, conducted by Rev. T. J. Owen. Large crowds were in attendance.

NOT YET READY.

SOLICITOR WILL PROBABLY FINISH OPINION SOON.

City Solicitor J. Mark Worten has not yet prepared his opinion on whether or not the residents and property owners can be compelled to connect with the sewerage system. He has several other matters to investigate and will be busy with them for several days.

MET IN THE YARDS

Two Engines Strike and Hurt Four Men.

None of the Injuries Are Serious, However—Locomotives Damaged Some.

RAILROAD NEWS OF INTEREST

There was a rear end collision in the local I. C. yards Sunday morning about 3:30 o'clock between two passenger engines, and four men are injured and the tanks of both engines badly smashed up as a result.

The engines were No. 236, in charge of Engineer James Lloyd and Fireman Stovall, and No. 237, in charge of Engineer Lee Eaker and Fireman Check Davidson. The former engine was coming in from the depot, having just brought in passenger train No. 104, and the latter was going out to take out passenger train No. 103, and at a few yards west of the Tennessee street crossing the engines met. The accident was caused by two strings of box cars on the sidetracks, which kept the engineers of both engines from seeing the other, as they neared a slight curve. Besides the regular engineers and firemen others on board were Engineer O. Donegan, going south to visit on the No. 236; Engineer Tom Mercer, going to Fulton to take out his run on the 237, and John Jones, a car repairer, returning from Fulton the 236. Donegan was injured in the right side and Mercer had several ribs broken and was badly bruised, and Engineer Lloyd was injured in the side and stomach. Jones, in jumping, sprained his left ankle, while Fireman Davidson sprained his left wrist and Eaker and Fireman Stovall escaped without a scratch.

The engines were going pretty fast, it is understood, but were checked as much as possible when the danger was seen. Both engines were disabled so that others had to be sent out in their place. Lloyd and Donegan are the worst injured.

Mr. W. E. Katterjohn went to Cedar Bluff this morning on business. He failed to engage any of the Italians who struck on the Cairo extension of the I. C., as they did not want to leave the city. Several of the strikers have returned to work, but the majority are still idle and waiting for their checks.

A serious wreck was narrowly averted at Mayfield creek, one mile north of Hartwell, at an early hour Saturday morning. Fast flyer No. 4, north-bound, jumped the track and ran on the cross ties about 200 yards, but was finally checked before being overturned by Engineer Youngblood. No one was hurt.

James Hofflich has been appointed foreman of the Illinois Central repair shop at Fulton to succeed G. E. Berry, who resigned. Mr. Hofflich was formerly foreman of the machine shops of the Illinois Central at Paducah and is thoroughly qualified for the Fulton position.

Mr. Harry Meyer, the I. C. watch inspector, Louisville division, left this morning for that division on his regular monthly watch inspection. He will probably be out several days comparing watches.

The following engineers have been reinstated in the local I. C. service: Engineers J. W. Stokes, G. E. Smith, J. J. Millett, J. J. Kelley. These men have been laid off for some little time.

Mr. H. R. Dill, of the Evansville district, was in the city today on business.

CALLED SESSION.

RAILROAD COMMITTEE OF THE BOARDS TO MEET.

A meeting of the joint railway and telegraph committee has been called for tonight. The committee has been called together to discuss the matter of box cars standing on the river front tracks. The merchants complain that the railroad company refuses to haul cars there for convenience and what few cars are taken there are permitted to remain on the tracks, continually blocking the streets, and the company claims the city forced it to abandon that method some time ago.

Mr. Robert Chastain went to Knoxville, Tenn., today on business.

RHEUMATISM

An All the Year Round Disease.

Rheumatism does not come and go with winter time always; in fact some suffer more during the Spring and Summer than at any other season. When the blood is charged with Uric Acid, Alkali and other irritating poisons, then the system is in the right condition for Rheumatism to develop, and an attack is liable to come at any time, Winter or Summer. Rheumatism, because it attacks different parts of the body, and is sudden or slow in its action, is given various names such as acute and chronic, muscular, articular, inflammatory, mercurial and sciatic, but it is the same old acid blood that causes all. Some are constant sufferers, while others have only occasional spells of Rheumatism, but either kind is wearing upon the constitution, and in time produces stiffness in the muscles and joints, and sometimes the acids thrown off by the blood settle upon the valves of the heart and ends suddenly and fatally.

It won't do to let Rheumatism run on. It is a dangerous disease, and you can never tell where it is going to strike. Home remedies, plasters, liniments and such things as produce counter-irritation, are soothing and may relieve the pain temporarily, but the polluted, acid blood cannot be reached by external applications.

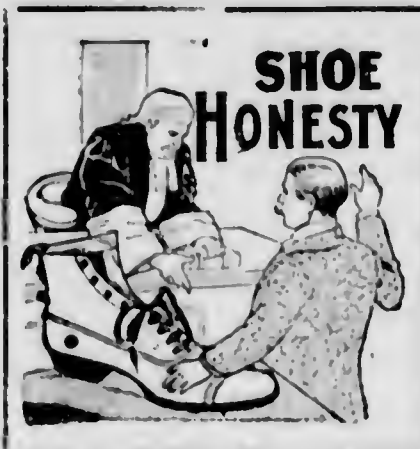

Rheumatism must be treated through the blood, and no remedy brings such prompt and lasting relief as S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the blood, neutralizes the acids, and removes all irritating poisons and effete matter from the system.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the thin acid blood, and as it circulates through the body, the corroding, gnawing poisons and acid deposits are dislodged and washed out of the muscles and joints, and the sufferer is happily relieved from the discomforts and misery of Rheumatism.

S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, does not contain any potent or mineral of any kind, and can be taken with safety by old and young.

Rheumatic sufferers who write us about their case will receive valuable aid and helpful advice from our physicians, for which no charge is made. We will mail free our special book on Rheumatism, which is the result of years of practical experience in treating this disease. It contains much interesting information about all kinds of Rheumatism.

INSURANCE NOTES

COMPANIES MAKING A PLAY FOR WHISKY INSURANCE.

Local fire insurance agents in Kentucky towns are making an organized attempt to retain the whiskey business of that state, which they are gradually losing.

The executive committee of the Kentucky and Tennessee Underwriters' association, which has its headquarters in Louisville, has referred to a committee, which is now considering the matter, a request to make a recommendation to insurance companies in Chicago to help out the Kentucky agents.

At one time the Kentucky agents wrote nearly all the whiskey business in the state, collecting thousands of dollars every year for premiums, but this has been lost to them to a large extent. Eastern and Chicago brokers taking much of it away from them.

When the local agents had their recent meeting at Bethel Springs they passed resolutions asking the Kentucky and Tennessee Underwriters' association to help them out of their difficulties. This association at its meeting last Monday at French Fork stated that it would have the executive committee of the body make some recommendations in Chicago by which the business could be kept at home.

NOT ENCOURAGING.

CROPS IN JUNE DID NOT MAKE GOOD SHOWING.

The report of the commissioner of agriculture, Mr. I. B. Hall, as to the conditions of crops at the close of June shows that the conditions during the month were not favorable generally for the crops in Kentucky. The cool rains the first part of the month were a hindrance to farm work, and retarded the growth of tobacco, corn and garden truck. Corn was planted late, but the usual area was planted. In some sections, however, it was not possible for it to be given the required attention, and on this account there will be little improvement in the crop over that of the previous month. The yield in wheat was disappointing, while the quality was much below that of former years. Oats and barley are not changed materially in condition since last month, while rye is worse than it then was. Hemp will probably improve during July. Fruit is a poor crop, although there is a fair yield in berries, grapes and plums.

THE BOSS WORM MEDICINE.

H. P. Rumpke, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child which was sick and threw up all food; could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at Duffels, Kolb & Co.

TORNADO IN ILLINOIS

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE REPORTED FROM CARBONDALE.

Carbondale, Ill., July 13.—One of the most damaging tornadoes which has passed over this section for years visited this city and surrounding county late Saturday, doing an immense amount of damage and slightly injuring City Clerk Frank M. Caldwell.

The afternoon was one of the hottest for the year. The tornado swept over the eastern side of the city, coming from the northeast.

The residence of Prof. T. H. Lee, principal of the central schools, was blown to the ground and is a complete wreck.

The house of Thomas Clark, bearing completion, was wrenched from its foundation and moved several feet.

The brick residence of City Clerk Frank M. Caldwell was unroofed, the upper story wrecked and part of the roof passed through the ceiling to the first floor.

In the surrounding county several barns and outbuildings were demolished, fruit orchards sustaining injuries which will be felt for years and trees partially dismantled.

WHAT LIGHTNING DID IN KENTUCKY IN JUNE.

ONE WAS KILLED AND ABOUT A SCORE INJURED

Lightning did little damage in Kentucky last month, according to the report of the Louisville weather office. On June 2, near Hodgenville, Walter Cassena, the son of Sam Cassena, a farmer, was instantly killed.

On June 5, at Williamstown, Mrs. Hen D. Adams was struck by lightning while sitting at an open window. Her head was burned and a foot mutilated by the bolt. The lightning killed two pigs, the report says, that had taken refuge under the floor of the room in which Mrs. Adams was sitting.

Mrs. Thomas Wraugh was seriously hurt on June 28 by lightning while in the Locust Grove church at Carlisle. Three people in all were hurt, and fourteen were severely shocked.

On the same day the lightning picked out another church and struck it while the services were in progress. This was the Methodist church at Tilton. Several people were shocked.

On June 6 the bolts killed four cattle at Paint Lick, Garrard county. In all, 18 cows lost their lives at that place in the month.

FAVORS SUNDAY BALL.

ST. LOUIS PRIEST OPENLY ADVOCATES IT.

St. Louis, Mo., July 13.—Father J. T. Coffey, in an address here openly declared himself in favor of Sunday baseball games.

"I know that many of my brethren of the cloth do not look at Sunday baseball in the light I do," he said, "but with the masses of the people I believe the Almighty meant Sunday not as a day of rest, strictly in the meaning of the word, but a day for recreation. Any legitimate enjoyment is bound to be uplifting, and so far as my personal observations go I have never found a game which gives so much healthy recreation as baseball."

FINED FOR CONTEMPT.

JUDGE BUGG GETTING AFTER DELINQUENT WITNESSES AT MAYFIELD.

Judge R. J. Bugg, who is holding court at Mayfield, infused a little ginger into the proceedings by fining a number of witnesses for contempt and issuing attachments for others. In the case of the Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance Co. and Ligon, Allen & Co. against the Mayfield Light and Water Co. several were fined $1 and costs for failing to appear and one $30.

Alias attachments were issued to Graves, McCracken, Marshall, Calloway and Carlisle counties for George Ligon, John Ligon, George Dunning, Worthy Farley and W. H. Kennedy and their bond fixed at $500 each.

The sheriff and his deputies were ordered to use every diligence in apprehending the witnesses.

The court intimated that his jurisdiction in the amount of punishment, which is $30 fine and thirty hours in jail, was not enough in such cases as this and that he would have a jury impaneled to try the contempts.

GIRL'S MURDER.

MAY BE REVEALED BY THE TESTIMONY OF GHOUL CANTRELL.

Indianapolis, July 13.—The return of Rufus Cantrell, the convicted negro ghoul, from the penitentiary, to testify in the grave-robbing cases, is likely, according to the detectives, to explain the mysterious disappearance of Miss Carrie Selva, who escaped from the insane hospital here nearly two years ago. The story, which is not yet verified, is that the woman was found by the ghoul, who kept her a prisoner fourteen weeks in a log hut and then chloroformed her to death, expecting to sell her body. This they were afraid to do and finally buried the body. It is also stated that Cantrell has information that will prove that this was the fate of the unfortunate woman, and that he will tell all he knows in the hope of shortening his sentence.

WHY RAZORS GET TIRED.

IT IS BECAUSE, A BARBER SAYS, THEIR TEETH GET CLOGGED.

"Do you know why we dip a razor in warm water before we begin shaving, and do you now why some ignorant men say a razor is 'tired'?" asked the barber of a Philadelphia Record reporter. "Well, this is all due to the fact that a razor is a saw, not a knife, and it works like a saw, not like a knife. Examined under the microscope its edge, that looks so smooth to the naked eye, is seen to have innumerable and fine saw teeth. When these teeth get clogged with dirt all the honing and strapping in the world will do no good—the razor is dull, and nothing will sharpen it. Then is the time the ignorant say it is 'tired' and stop using it, but the wise know it is only clogged.

"The wise, though, don't suffer their razors to get clogged. They dip them in warm water before they use them and thus the teeth are kept clean.

It is because a razor is a saw that lather is used on the beard. The lather doesn't soften the beard, as many people think; it stiffens it, so that it will present a firm and resisting surface to the razor."

REPULSIVE FEATURES.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, indicate that the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

A NEW WRINKLE.

RAILROADS MAY REQUIRE INFORMATION BLANKS FILLED OUT.

The New York Central railroad company has compromised for $30,000 the damage suit brought by the widow of E. C. Hinsdale, who was killed in the Park avenue disaster about a year ago. Mr. Hinsdale was receiving a salary of $5,000 at his death and was only 47 years old, considerations which would govern an assessment of damages had the case gone to trial. The railroad company has been mulcted in larger sums than that on account of lives lost in that disaster. The widow of one man received $80,000. He was shown to have been receiving a salary of $15,000 per annum. Thus where the law fixes no definite value of the life lost a railroad company is made to incur extraordinary risk in carrying rich men and others of large incomes as passengers, and now it is proposed that it might be well to adopt the practice of having persons applying for transportation state the amount of their income and pay rates on a scale rising with the income.

PROMINENT MAN

FATHER OF MR. ARCH POOL DIES NEAR BENTON.

Mr. F. M. Pool of near Benton, one of the most prominent farmers in that section of Marshall county, died Saturday night of heart trouble, and this morning Mr. Arch Pool of the Louisville Courier-Journal, his only son, went to Benton to attend the funeral.

The deceased was about 74 years of age and had been a resident of Marshall county the greater part of his life. He was born in Alexander, Va., but removed to Nashville in his early youth, from there going to Marshall county, Ky. He was married once, his wife dying in 1896.

His Repentance Was Real.

W. L. Chubb, a Rock Island section foreman of Liberal, Kan., shot and killed Arthur Smith last June, but was not convicted. He was converted at a Salvation Army meeting recently, and as the result he has turned all his property over to the mother of his victim and agreed to pay her $20 a month as long as she lives.

No Problem At All.

John Burroughs, who has recently pointed out the scientific falsity of the "nature books" that attribute a quite human intelligence and sensitiveness to wild animals is a student of the life of Benjamin Franklin, and has at his tongue's end a number of Franklin stories that are but little known.

According to one of these stories, a Philadelphia neighbor of Franklin said to him one day:

"I keep a barrel of beer in my back yard, and unprincipled persons climb the fence at night with pails and pitchers to rob me. It is necessary for me to keep the beer in this yard; I have no other place for it. Can't you devise for me, then—since you are so clever—some way of preserving my beer from these thieves?"

"What you must do," said Franklin, "is this. Beside your beer, you must put a cask of fine Madeira. Keep this cask full, and I'll warrant that as long as you do so your beer will remain untouched."

Death

From Bad Dreams if Heart is Weak.

To Awake in Fear a Bad Symptom.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Will Cured You.

Recent investigations by specialists on the heart have demonstrated that in nine cases out of ten of deaths in bed, heart action was stopped by fear, which bad dreams or nightmare had brought on. After a careful study of the habits of those who died in over a thousand cases, it has been found that the majority had been sufferers from nightmare or nocturnal disturbances of dreamland, and that frequently they awoke in the middle of the night completely exhausted and gravely alarmed, although some particularly vivid dream. Thus we learn to recognize dreaming and nightmare as a marked symptom of heart disease. Be warned in time. Strengthen the heart's action with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which enriches the blood, improves the circulation, regulates the pulse and invigorates the heart nerves.

"When I would get home at night and sit down, I did not feel like moving. When I tried to sleep I would doze off and then awake with a sudden fright. This would happen several times during the night and when morning came I felt like iron weights were attached to me and dragging me down. I doctored with home physicians and took treatment from specialists but nothing did me any good until I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Remedies. The Heart Cure, Nerve and Nerve and Liver Pills were what I used and I am thankful to say they have cured me."—H. B. Hyde, 2414 S. Rampart Street, New Orleans, La.

OUR NEW CONGRESSMAN.

Congressman Ollie James, in advance of his initiation to congress,
has had himself interviewed in Washington. Mr. James is probably the biggest man who ever represented Kentucky in the national assembly—in some ways. But about his interview, it is a peach. He says: "We feel that the party in the nation is getting in good shape for a victory next year, and the question of candidates is secondary." If Mr. James or any other Democrat feels that way now he is destined to feel foolish later on.
The Democratic party never did stand less show to win, and any Democrat who can overcome his partisan prejudices long enough to take a sensible view of it knows it.

But that isn't the extent of Congressman James' unequalled omniscience. He declares that in order to win "it will be necessary for us to get together." How wonderful for the new congressman from Kentucky to have found it out! To his credit it may be said, however, that decidedly
"we must get together," but he should have added by way of parenthesis,
"but we can't."

So there will be none of Congressman James' transcendent wisdom lost,
the rest is quoted verbatim:

"As for issues, there will be an abundance of them. We would not have to go further than the conduct of governmental affairs here in Washington. Thousands and thousands of dollars of the people's money have been squandered and stolen by Republican officials. This is proved of one department, and every other department is tainted with suspicion, undoubtedly justifiable. Surely a party which cannot be trusted with an honest administration of the government does not deserve an endorsement
at the polls, and will not get it.
There is no mistaking the temper of the people on this subject. If there is one thing they will insist upon it is the integrity of the officials whom they select to conduct their affairs.
The Republican party stands convicted by its own admission of dishonesty,
and there is nothing left to do but to turn the robbers out."

The First district, it is evident, is to be congratulated on the superior in-tellectuality of her new congressman.
He has been strolling around Washington only a short time, but has discovered that "thousands and thousands of dollars of the people's money have been squandered and stolen by Republican officials." He doesn't tell us exactly how many thousand, nor which Republican officials "squandered and stole," but it is doubtless because he is reserving that startling bit of information for congress when it convenes again. He says: "Surely a party which cannot be trusted with an honest administration of the government does not deserve an endorsement at the polls, and will not get it.
There is no mistaking the temper of the people on the subject." Certainly not. He is probably talking of the Democratic party, for the people have not deemed it worthy of being trusted with an honest national administration for so, these forty or more years, with two exceptions, and they then learned a lesson that will prevent them ever falling into the error again. No,
there is no mistaking the temper of the people on the subject! If there is,
it will be quickly dispelled next year

when President Roosevelt beats the Democrats worse than they were ever beaten before.

Congressman James' peroration,
"There is nothing left to do but turn
the robbers out," is a marvel of childlike confidence. No, there is nothing left but to "turn them out," and evidently Mr. James intends to do it when he brightens the house of representatives with his beaming, inspiring contenances at the next session of congress.

Mr. James is manifestly a great man—the greatest Kentucky ever had in congress—and should be nominated for president on the strength of his unequaled interview, if for no other reason. A man with so much persistency and such a quick, penetrating knowledge of men, parties and conditions should never be permitted to shed his lustrous intellect in the moldy halls of congress. He ought to be made president forthwith!

Mr. Earl Hazen, Republican nominee for the state legislature, is a young man of ability and one who stands high with all who know him. He has made many friends since he became identified with politics in a small way,
being in no sense of the word a politician, and many more since. He ran a good race for city marshal a few years ago, and if elected to the legislature will not only serve his state and county well, but will be a credit to it, for he is a young man of scholarly attainments and progressive ideas,
just the kind needed to help make Kentucky a wide awake, bustling commonwealth, instead of a fad-ridden refuge for thieving Democratic politicians, bootlickers and grafters. One of the most important offices to be filled
this November is that of representative in the lower house of the legislature, and the prosperity and progress of the state and the welfare of the people may depend on a wise choice.

What the Democrats stand for can be seen from their past acts and the condition into which they have gotten Kentucky; what the Republicans stand for may be seen from the platform adopted at the county convention Saturday, to be found in another place, and Mr. Hazen is chosen to carry out that platform as far as possible should he be elected in November.

The Republican prospects in Kentucky are good, and it is hoped that every Republican in the state will have too much common sense and too much regard for the success of his party to run the risk of splitting it up as the Democrats have disrupted theirs. It is hoped that the candidate who has the most votes fairly and squarely obtained, will be nominated for governor in the convention Wednesday, but if it is found necessary for the Republicans from other parts of the state to discipline the Louisville crowd to prevent the party's being disorganized, it should be done promptly and effectively. The Sun is not ready to believe that the Louisville delegation is intent on doing anything which would prove inimical to the party, but if it is, the first thing that should be done when it becomes evident is to sit down on the trouble breeding, rule-of-ruin gang good and hard, for it can easily be done by the delegates from other parts of the state.
The Louisville faction of Democracy has ruined the Democratic party in the state, and the Republicans should see to it that the Louisville crowd of Republicans does not ruin the Republican party.

Those who start out to educate the public usually have to pay rather high for it. A Louisville man decided the other day that the street cars should put in ensplodes, as there is a city ordinance there prohibiting spitting in cars. He boarded the car, and remarking that he "spit about as keen as a brin," was politely informed that he was violating the rules. He declared he didn't care, the time had arrived for the company to put in ens-plodes, and that he intended to be the John the Baptist of the movement.
The police judge, when he was taken before him, fined him $10.05 and the offender now announces that if the crowd he started keeps up long he believes it will be cheaper for him to buy the ensplodes himself and present them to the street car company.

The fine assed against a man by Judge Sanders this morning for being profane and abusive in the presence of ladies on street cars should be a lesson. Drunken men are a nuisance anywhere, especially when they are in such a condition that they use foul and profane language in the presence of ladies and gentlemen, and if a few of them were given the medicine the motorman gave one and then the
"chaser" of $50 and costs that Judge Sanders prescribed today unbecoming conduct of that character on street

Belknap in the city, and in the county
proper it looks strongly like Belknap,
and there is no Willson contest there.
In Franklin Pratt contests with Belknap.

Col. Belknap says of the result: "I think I have cause to be pleased with the result of the day in this city."
"I believe that the ward conventions were held strictly in accordance with the rules of the state central committee, adopted for the control of the county committees. I think that every effort was made to have fairness,
and to have the qualified voters given the opportunity to vote for the candidate they preferred. If they didn't avail themselves of the opportunity it was their own fault."

"I regard the methods of electing the nominee as the conventions were held today as coming nearer to giving the right expression of opinion as to the choice of the voters than would a convention with viva voce voting."

Mr. Willson is quoted as saying:
"I am delighted with the excellent showing my friends made for me. I know that in every ward I had at least twice as many supporters as Col.
Belknap, and in many I had as high as five times as many. This is also applicable to the Seventh ward, in which Col. Belknap and I reside.
The entire result was eminently satisfactory."

"As I have heretofore predicted and indicated, the Sapp committee gives the certificate of the delegates to Col.
Belknap, in spite of the fact that his votes were outnumbered two to one.
"The matter will now be brought out on the floor of the convention."

A DARK HORSE NAMED.

Covington, July 13—The Republicans of Kentucky need not be surprised if the name of R. P. Ernst of this city is presented to the state convention in Louisville next Wednesday for the gubernatorial nomination. A close friend of his started a boom for him at the delegate convention in a quiet way and others said that if it became apparent at the convention that neither Belknap, Willson nor Pratt could win, Ernst's name would be presented, and with the solid backing of the Kenton and Campbell delegation, and his strong following in Eastern and Northeastern Kentucky,
they believe he can win the nomination.

country, of which he knows very little, judging from his erratic talk

YOUNG MAN VISITS OLD FRIENDS HERE AND ALSO LOOKS AFTER BUSINESS.

Mr. George L. Anderson, traveling out of Denver for the Denver Chemical company, is in the city on business and pleasure combined. He is a very interesting young man, and was formerly a baseball player in the national league, and is still an enthusiastic fan. He has traveled all over the world and been in nearly every city of size in the world, and met Dr. Robertson in Liverpool when the doctor was going to Germany to study medicine some years ago. He is a most interesting talker and is an Irishman and proud of it.

He says that he has seen about everything in the world there is to see,
and is something like the Irishman
who, after listening to a group of tourists telling what was the most beautiful thing they ever saw, said: "He gorra, the purtiest thing O'iver saw war a gude, blithy bricht goin'
through a plate glass window!"

SMALL SUIT.

BOLD HIGHWAYMEN

TRIED TO FRIGHTEN A SUP-POSED COWARD LAST NIGHT.

Several well known young men who are spending a few days in the country, decided yesterday to play a joke on another young man who has always been considered somewhat timid and not likely to stand under fire. He was to come out with a companion
last night after dark, and the plan was for his companion to tell him ghost stories and pretend to be afraid on account of the darkness on the way, and when they reached a certain lonely spot in the road the young men from the house were to spring out and yell, "Halt! Money or your life." The supposed timid young man's companion was then to duck and run and leave the other to escape from the highwaymen the best way he could.
They expected his applications to be spared and not murdered would be very amusing.

Everything worked beautifully.
The Timid Man was worked up into a good state of apprehension by the blood curdling narratives of his treacherous companion on their way from the car line to the house. When the proper place was reached, the young men from the house jumped out and played the part of brigands.
Their confederate who had accompanied the Timid Man out the deserted road carried out his part of the program by running, and doubtless expected the other to do likewise, but he was fooled.

The first thing the highwaymen
knew their intended victim had slung bat and coat off and was fighting. He couldn't see them but he "felt" them
several times, and one had the skin taken off part of his face before they could tell him who it was and get him to let up. He was like a buzz saw.

Mutual relief was expressed at the conclusion of the fun. The young man was glad he wasn't to be robbed
and the others were glad he had stopped fighting. They thought when he sailed in that he was wound up for all night, and all are ready to sign an affidavit any time that he is no coward.

COUNTY COURT.

NOT MUCH BUSINESS TRANS-ACTED THIS MORNING.

County court was held today by County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, but little business was transacted.

The regular settlements were made and the liquor license of Robert Mem-ie transferred to Conrad Beyer.

Mrs. Daisy Barnett was appointed and qualified as a notary public.

Several errors in incorrect assessments were corrected. G. B. Chalk prayed relief from an over-assessment
of $292, which was granted.

Hart Furell's assessment for a Court street lot was decreased from $10,960 to $35. This is probably one of the biggest mistakes ever made in assessment.

SUITS FILED.

SALLIE NAPPER WANTS DI-VORCE FROM JOHN NAPPER.

The following suits have been filed in circuit court: Sallie Napper against John Napper, for divorce on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. She asks for an absolute divorce and the restoration of her maiden name, Sallie Perkins.

August Warth against Eva Bright,
Adm., and others, for settlements.

WITH THE SICK.

Mrs. Robert Reeves is quite sick at her home on Jefferson street, from malaria.

Mr. I. D. Wilcox is out again after a month's illness from a very sore left eye, which his many friends will be glad to know is improving.

THE PLAN THWARTED

Hole Dug in Side of the County Jail Saturday.

Deputy Jailer Rudolph Discovered it
in Time to Prevent Escape.

TWO PRISONERS ARE SUSPECTED

A desperate and almost successful jail delivery was attempted Saturday night at the McCracken county jail, corner Sixth and Clark streets, but fortunately the scheme was discovered by Deputy Jailer Harry Rudolph
as he went to close up Saturday night,
and the plans of the prisoners who are suspected of the attempt were frustrated.

Several days ago George W. Taylor, who is in jail for forgery, had a had hemorrhage and was taken out of his cell and permitted to remain in the corridor. His cell companion, Sidney Aubrey, who is in jail for breaking into the wharfbait, was permitted to act as his attendant. Both men had been given the freedom of the corridors three days Saturday night and when Deputy Jailer Rudolph went to close up he noticed on the northwest wing of the building, up stairs, a pair of pants and shirt hung carelessly over a corner of the window.

The clothes had not been arranged carefully enough, however, to hide a small hole that aroused the deputy's suspicious and an examination showed a large hole in the wall, large enough to admit the form of one man easily,
and everything was evidently in readiness for the escape. The bricks had been carefully loosened by a spoon and piece of wire, and had been placed back in position to avert suspicion.
The deputy jailer put the men back into the cell and sent for a brick mason, Mr. E. Augustus, who today repaired the hole.

Mr. Rudolph thinks that either Taylor or Aubrey dug the hole as no other prisoners had been out. Taylor had another very bad hemorrhage today and cannot live long the doctors say.

MORTUARY RECORD.

NOT MANY DEATHS IN THIS SECTION SINCE SATURDAY.

Marie McDowell, the two year old daughter of G. T. McDowell, died this morning at 1716 Broad street, of cerebra spinal meningitis. The remains were taken to Wingo, Ky., this afternoon for burial.

Mrs. Ann Watwood, aged 75, died
at her home near Reed, this county, Saturday from consumption. The funeral took place yesterday, burial
at Pleasant Hill cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mr. Sam
Nelson took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence on West Jefferson street, burial at Oak Grove.

Lillian, the three year old daughter of Ballard Fourquarian, Lamont, this county, died yesterday, burial at Mc-Kendree.

COOLER WEATHER.

QUITE A DROP IN TEMPERA-TURE YESTERDAY.

Today is the coolest for several days, and the highest will probably be under 85. Last night there was a very gratifying drop, the lowest being 64, against 74 and 76 last week.
There was quite a rainfall yesterday,
and it has helped the crops wonderfully.

LATE ACCIDENTS

Mr. Harry Fisher Painfully Cut
by Razor.

A Number of Minor Accidents Which Are Not Serious.

Mr. Harry Fisher met with a peculiar accident Saturday night late while shaving, the result of a "pesky" fly.

He was getting shaved in a down town shop on Broadway, near Fourth street, when a fly alighted on his face.
He made a hasty swipe at the offender and met the edge of the razor in the hands of the barber, full in the face.
The hand was cut deep and required several stitches by Drs. Robertson and Hoyer to close the wound.

Dan Gardner, a colored switchman in the employ of the local I. C., was injured yesterday morning about 11 o'clock in the shop yards while working with a string of cars. He was hanging on a car being "kicked" by when the car jumped the track. Gardner was thrown several yards and in alighting his right ankle was badly sprained. The man was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Miss Bettie Hagedorn fell at her home on West Broadway Saturday and inflicted a painful wound in her left knee by a nail. Dr. Duley attended her.

Mr. Herbert Harksdale's little 2 year old son fell from the porch late Saturday and his left arm was broken. Dr.
Eubanks attended him.

Aid for Clara Morris.
Plans for the benefit for Miss Clara Morris, the actress, have taken definite shape. The performance will be held in New York city under the auspices of the theatrical profession. Rev.
A. F. Underhill, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, in Yonkers, of which Miss Morris is a member, will act as treasurer of the funds raised. Anella Bingham, the actress, has agreed to manage the benefit, but the exact date has not been fixed. Among the patrons, many of whom have contributed money, are Bishop Potter, W. C. Whitney, J. P. Morgan, George J. Gould,
H. O. Havemeyer, John D. Crummins
and John G. Carlisle.

TO AVERT A RACE WAR.

Indianapolis, July 13—Negro leaders in Indianapolis are taking steps to avert a race war. The Evansville riots and conflicts between the races
in other cities have made them apprehensive of a similar outbreak here.
An organization that is known as the Negro Business League has just been formed to lead the city of what the better element of the race calls the "Jim Crow" negro.

CHILD CREMATED.

Perry, Ia., July 13—Frightened because he had set fire to his father's barn, Abner Carpenter, 5 years old,
hid away in the haymow of the burning building and was cremated by the flames.

THE WARD OF KING CANUTE

Is different from all the rank and file of romantic novels—so fresh and original in plot and treatment that it is the book of all others for Summer reading. You are sure to be interested in the story of Randalin, the beautiful Danish maiden who served King Canute disguised as a page in the brave old days of the Danish Conquest. Another distinctive feature is its beautiful appearance, especially the wonderful pictures in color.

CLOSING THE SALOONS

Police Commissioners Will Hold Their Meeting This Evening

One Says They Cannot Enforce the Law Until They Know Officially It Is a Law.

MUCH POLITICS MIXED IN

The board of police and fire commissioners are to hold their regular meeting tonight, at the city hall and may fill a vacancy on the police force occasioned by the resignation of Officer John Hovions, and one in the South Side fire department occasioned by the resignation of Stationman John McFadden.

The committee of the Good Government league that called on Mayor Yeiser Saturday relative to the 10:30 closing law has been invited to be present and will doubtless be on hand. The board was called to meet Saturday night but failed to meet because the members were all busy and could not get there.

In regard to the 10:30 closing law the commissioners do not appear to think anything will be done with it at present. They say that while they do not profess to be lawyers, they are wise enough to know that officials know what the court of appeals decides only when they get the mandate of the court. That the mandate of the court of appeals has not arrived in the 10:30 closing case, and they have no right to, and would not attempt to enforce the law until they are notified officially by the court of appeals, through the mandate, what the law is.

One said this morning that the board had already issued instructions to the chief of police to order all laws enforced, and that that was as far as their authority went. As to what the laws are, that is something the commissioners are not expected to keep track of. They are not appointed to decide what is the law and notify the police officers that it is law. That the chief of police, Marshal Crow, will, doubtless be guided by what is right and proper and order enforced the laws when they are laws, as city officials are usually guided by the advice of as good attorneys as anyone else.

Owing to the absence of Commissioner Pete Rogers the board may not fill any of the vacancies tonight. Judging from the talk of the commissioners, who were appointed by Mayor Yeiser and are strong Yeiser men, they do not take very kindly to the Good Government league agitation, because of the reports that politics is back of it, and that it is a Potter scheme to discredit the Yeiser administration.

"So far as the 10:30 closing law is concerned," said a commissioner today, "if a preacher was to see in the paper that some church away from here had extended him a call, would he be on the strength of the publication pack his clothes and take his family there to assume charge of the church? I don't think he would. He might be certain the call had been made, and all that, but he would wait for the official papers, just as the police authorities are doing in this 10:30 closing case, and have to do."

There is already talk of bringing in an ordinance in the boards to repeal the 10:30 ordinance as soon as an effort is made to enforce it. Some of the members of the council, it is claimed, voted for the law on the supposition it would be declared unconstitutional, and are anxious now to vote for a repeal, while no trouble is anticipated in getting a repeal through the board of aldermen.

"13" AT THE WHITE HOUSE

PRESIDENT'S NEW WEDGEWOOD DINNER RECALLS INSTANCES OF HOODOO NUMBER.

To those who are influenced by the old superstition of sitting down to table 13 in number, an invitation from the president to dine at the White House off the new state service of china, manufactured by the famous firm of Wedgwood, may well be looked at askance. Whether intentionally or by accident, the mystic number is curiously repeated in the crest, and even in the transaction by which the service was ordered. Any one who visits the St. Louis exposition may observe the former, as the service is to be placed there on view. To begin with, there are, of course, 13 stars and 13 bars in the shield, representing the original 13 states of the union. In one claw the eagle clasps 13 bolts and in the other an olive branch upon which there are 13 leaves and 13 berries. The pinions of the eagle, too, have 13 feathers, and it will be found that there are 13 letters in the motto "E Pluribus Unum." Further, there are 13 letters in the Christian names of the president and his wife—Theodore and Annie—and 13 letters also in Staffordshire, the county in England in which the Wedgwood ware is manufactured, but perhaps the most significant fact of all in this respect is that the service was delivered on Friday, the 13th of February, of this year.

Under these circumstances it would seem to require only a party of 13 to make any one sensitive of such matters search his mind diligently for an excuse to absent himself from the table—Collier's Weekly.

The Progress of Cremation.

Cremation within the past few years has made much progress in Europe, and still greater progress in the United States. San Francisco at the present time burns the waste in the number of its citizens who are yearly cremated. Despite, however, that more persons are yearly cremated, and that the practice is still exalted to this point, there still exists much prejudice against cremation among the population at large.

OUTING SPOTS IN THE NORTHWEST

There are many places in the country of the Northern Pacific, some inexpensive, others better and more expensive, where one can spend the summer days pleasantly and healthfully. Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter root valley in Montana; Lakes Pend d'Oreille and Cam d'Aleu, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and on the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write us giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want. And don't forget that Yellowstone Park is the chief of all tourist shrines.

ABNER DANIEL

By WILL N. HARBEN
Author of "Westerfeld"

Copyright, 1902, by PARKER & BROS., Who Publish the Work in Book Form. All Rights Reserved.

"I never told you the extent of my death," went on Bishop in the current of confession. "I never even told Perkins yesterday. Just an' I've managed to rake in fully twenty thousand acres of mountain land. I was goin' on what I towed was a dead shore thing. I secured all I could lay my hands on, an' I did it in secret. I was afeard even to tell you about what Perkins said, thinkin' it might leak out an' spile my chances."

"But, father," said Alan, "you didn't have enough money to buy all that land."

"I got it up," Bishop's face was doggedly pale, almost defiant of his overwhelming disaster. "I mortgaged this farm to get money to buy Maylay and Morton's four thousand acres."

"The farm you was going to deed to Alan?" gasped his wife. "You didn't include that?"

"Not in that deal," groaned Bishop. "I swapped that to Phil Parsons for his poplar an' cypress belt."

The words seemed to cut rapidly into the silence of the big room. Abner Daniel was the only one who seemed unmoved by the confession. He filled his pipe from the bowl on the mantel-piece and pressed the tobacco down with his forefinger; then he kicked the ashes in the chimney till he uncovered a small live coal. He eyed it for a moment, then dipped it up in the shovel, rolled it into his pipe and began to smoke.

"So I ain't agoin' to git no yearly pass over the new road," he said, his object being to draw his brother-in-law back to Perkins' action in the matter.

"Perkins was a-lyin' to me," answered Bishop. "He hadn't admitted it yet, but he was a-lyin'. His object was to let the Tompkins sell out for a decent price, but he can't be handled. He's got me on the hip."

"No," said Alan. "I'd rather keep on swappin' gold dollars for mountain land an' lettin' it go for taxes 'an to try to beat a lawyer at his own game. A courthouse is like the devil's abode, easy to git into, no outlet an' nothin' but search while you are there."

"Hush, for the name o' goodness!" cried Mrs. Bishop, looking at her husband. "Don't you see he's dyin' from it? Are you all agoin' to kill him? What does a few acres o' land or debts amount to beside killin' a man 'at's been tryin' to help us all? Alfred, move out fore dinner."

Alan followed him out to the wagon. "It's pretty tough, Uncle Ab," he said. "I hadn't the slightest idea it was so bad."

"I wasn't so shore," said Daniel. "But I was just a-thinkin' in thar. You've got a powerful good friend in Rayburn Miller. He's the sharpest speculator in north Georgia. Ef I was you, I'd see him an' lay the whole thing before him. He'll be able to give you good advice, an' I'd take it. A feller that's made as much money as he has at his age won't give a friend bad advice."

"I thought of him," said Alan, "but I am a little afraid he will think we want to borrow money, and he never lets out a cent without the best security."

"Well, you needn't be afeard on that score," laughed the old man as he reached up on the high wagon seat for his whip. "I once heard 'im say that business an' friendship wouldn't mix any better'n oil an' water."

CHAPTER V.

THE FOLLOWING Saturday Alan went to Darley, as he frequently did, to spend Sunday. On such visits he usually stayed at the Johnston House, a great, old-fashioned brick building that had survived the civil war and remained untouched by the shot and shell that hurried over it during that dismal period when most of the population had "refugeed farther south." It had four stories and was too big for the town, which could boast of only 2,000 inhabitants, one-third of whom were black. However, the smallness of the town was in the hotel's favor, for in a place where no one would have patronized a second-class hotel, opposition would have died a natural death. The genial proprietor and his family were of the best blood, and the Johnston House was a sort of social clubhouse where the church people held their affairs and the less serious element gave dances. To be admitted to the hotel without having to pay for one's dinner was the hallmark of social approval. It was near the ancient looking brick car shed, under which the trains of two main lines ran, and a long freight warehouse of the same date and architecture. Around the hotel were clustered the chief financial enterprises of the town—its stores, postoffice, banks and a hall for theatrical purposes. Darley was the seat of its county, and another relic of the days before the war was its courthouse. The principal sidewalks were paved with brick, which in places were damp and green and sometimes raised above their common level by the underground roots of the sycamore trees that edged the streets.

In the office of the hotel, just after registering his name, Alan met his friend Rayburn Miller, for whose business ability, it may be remembered, Abner Daniel had such high regard. He was a fine looking man of thirty-three, tall and of athletic build. He had dark eyes and hair and a ruddy, outdoor complexion.

"Hello!" he said cordially. "I thought you might git in today, so I came round to see. Sorry you've taken a room. I wanted you to sleep with me tonight. Sister's gone, and no one is there but the cook. Hello, I must be careful. I'm drumming for business right under Sanford's nose."

"I'll make you stay with me to make up for it," said Alan as the clerk behind the counter laughed good naturedly over the allusion to himself.

"Hamed if I don't think about it," said Miller. "Come round to the office. I want to talk to you. I reckon you've got every plow going such weather as this."

"Took my horse out of the field to drive over," said Alan as they went out and turned down to a side street where there was a row of law offices, all two roomed buildings, single stories, built of brick and bearing battered signs. One of these buildings was Miller's, which, like all its fellows, had its door wide open, thus inviting all the lawyers in the "row" and all students of law to enter and borrow books or use the ever open desk.

Rayburn Miller was a man among ten thousand in his class. Just after being graduated at the state university he was admitted to the bar and took up the practice of law. He could undoubtedly have made his way at this alone, had not other and more absorbing talents developed within him. Having had a few thousand dollars left him at his father's death, he began to utilize this capital in "note shaving" and other methods of turning over money for a handsome profit furnished by the unsettled conditions, the time and locality. He soon became an adept in many lines of speculation, and as he was remarkably shrewd and cautious it is not to be wondered at that he soon accumulated quite a fortune.

"Take a seat," he said to Alan as they went into the office, and he threw himself into the revolving chair at his littered desk. "I want to talk to you. I suppose you are in for some fun. The boys are getting up a dance at the hotel, and they want your dollar to help pay the band. It's a good one this time. They've ordered it from Chattanooga. It will be down on the 7:35. Got a match?"

Alan had not, and Miller turned his head to the open door. An old negro happened to be passing, with an ax on his shoulder.

"Tough, there, Uncle Ned!" Miller called out.

The negro had passed, but he heard his name called, and he came back and looked in at the door.

"Want me, Marse Rayburn?"

"Yes, you old scamp. Get me a match or I'll shoot the top of your head off."

"All right, sah; all right, Marse Rayburn."

"You ought to know him," said Miller, with a smile as the negro hurried into the adjoining office. "His wife cooks for Colonel Barclay. He might tell you if Miss Dolly's going tonight, but I know she is. Frank Hillhouse checked her name off the list, and I heard him say she'd accepted. By the way, that fellow will do to watch. I think he and the colonel are pretty thick."

"Will you never let up on that?" Alan asked, with a flush.

"I don't know that I shall," laughed Rayburn. "It seems so funny to see you in love, or, rather, to see you think you are."

"I have never said I was," said Alan sharply.

"But you show it so blamed plain," said Miller.

"Here 'tis, Marse Rayburn. Marse Trabue said you could have a whole box of you'd put up wild sulphur ones."

Miller took the matches from the outstretched hand and tossed a cigar to Alan. "Say, Uncle Ned," he asked, "do you know that gentleman?" Indicating Alan with a nod of his head.

A quizzical look dawned in the old negro's eyes, and then he gave a resounding guffaw and shook all over.

"I reckon I know his boss, Marse Rayburn," he tittered.

"That's a good one on you, Alan," laughed Miller. "He knows your boss." "I'll have to spring that on you when I see you two together."

As the negro left the office Mr. Trabue leaned in the doorway, holding his battered silk hat in his hand and mopping his perspiring face.

He nodded to Alan and said to Miller, "Do you want to write?"

"Not any more for you, thanks," said Miller. "I have the backache now from those depositions I made out for you yesterday."

"Oh, I don't mean that," the old lawyer assured him, "but I had to borrow your ink just now, an', see! you at your desk, I thought you might need it."

"Oh, if I do," joked Miller. "I can buy another bottle at the bookstore. They pay me a commission on the ink I furnish the row. They let me have it cheap by the case. What stumps me is that you looked in to see if I needed it. You are breaking the rule, Mr. Trabue. They generally make me hunt for my office furniture when I need it. They've borrowed everything I have except my iron safe. Their ignorance of the combination, its weight and their confirmed laziness are all that saved it."

When the old lawyer had gone, the two friends sat and smoked in silence for several minutes. Alan was studying Miller's face. Something told him that the news of his father's disaster had reached him and that Miller was going to speak of it. He was not mistaken, for the lawyer soon broached the subject.

"I've been intending to ride out to see you almost every day this week," he said, "but business has always prevented my leaving town."

"Then you have heard?"

"Yes, Alan, I'm sorry, but it's all over the country. A man's bad luck spreads as fast as good war news. I heard it the next day after your father returned from Atlanta, and saw the whole thing in a flash. The truth is, Perkins had the cheek to try his scheme on me. I'm the first target of every scoundrel who has something to sell, and I've learned many of their tricks. I didn't listen to all he had to say, but got rid of him as soon as I could. You must not blame the old man. As I see it now, it was a most plausible scheme, and the shame of it is that no one can be handled for it. Your father will have to grin and bear it. He really didn't pay a fabulous price for the land, and if he were in a condition to hold on to it for, say, twenty-five years he might not lose money. But who can do that sort of thing? I have acres and acres of mountain land offered me at a much lower figure, but what little money I've made has been made by turning my capital rapidly. Have you seen Dolly since it happened?"

"No; not for two weeks," replied Alan. "I went to church with her Sunday before last and have not seen her since. I was wondering if she had heard about it."

"Oh, yes; she's heard it from the colonel. It may surprise you, but the thing has rubbed him the wrong way."

"Why I don't understand," exclaimed Alan. "Has he?"

"The old man has had about 2,000 acres of land over near your father's purchases, and it seems that he was closely watching all your father's deals and, in spite of his judgment to the contrary, Mr. Bishop's confidence in that sort of real estate has made him put a higher valuation on his holdings over there. So you see, now that your father's mistake is common talk, he is forced to realize a big slump, and he wants to blame some one for it. I don't know but that your father or some one else made him an offer for his land, which he refused. So you see it is only natural for him to be disgruntled."

"I see," said Alan. "I reckon you heard that from Miss Dolly?"

Miller smoked slowly.

Correct Summer Clothing The Kind That Won't Lose Shape

Did you ever notice how quick thin clothing loses its shape? It's because it is not made right. We overcome that fault in our Correct Summer Clothing—we've had it made a new way. The coats have a full shoulder, with hair-cloth stiffening down the front, that keeps them from breaking or losing shape. The pants have cuff bottoms, concealed buttons and felt straps, the cloth is thoroughly shrunk which overcomes bagging at the knee. There's no cloth like it for fit and style in Paducah. We show the new Irish Donegal Cloths, Cheviots and Home-spuns in coats and for men and young men

NO GAME WAS PLAYED

Rather Small Crowd at the Baseball Park

President Weille Called Off the Game
But the Boys Practiced.

OTHER BASEBALL NEWS

Club	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Henderson	27	16	628
Cairo	29	19	604
Clarksville	23	18	561
Jackson	20	21	488
Paducah	16	26	381
Hopkinsville	16	27	372

CAIRO BROKE EVEN.

Henderson, July 1—First game, Henderson 6, Cairo 3. Batteries, Bolin and Warner, Clark, Holycross and Rutledge. Second game, Cairo 11, Henderson 0. Batteries, Brockert and Rutledge, McNutt and Warner.

No game was scheduled yesterday for Clarksville and Hopkinsville.

SATURDAY'S K. I. T. GAMES.

Clarksville 6, Paducah 5.
Hopkinsville 4, Jackson 4, stopped in sixth inning by rain.
Henderson-Cairo, no game, rain.

No regular game was played at Wallace park grounds yesterday afternoon but a practice game was played instead and a collection taken up for the benefit of the players.

The rain placed the grounds in excellent condition but the attendance was rather small. The practice game resulted in victory for the Jackson boys by a score of 7 to 3. Lewis, an outfielder from Nashville, pitched the first inning for Paducah and Girard finished out. Neither pitchers worked hard and Girard several times could have won out but preferred saving himself for today's game. Duke, the Jackson short stop, pitched for Jackson and did good work. He has pitched all his life and is no novice at the slab.

Today Girard and Perry, for Paducah; Cole and Pettit, for Jackson, will be the batteries. A double header will be played tomorrow.

A NEW RULING.

In Boston the left field fence backs on a railroad track. As a consequence a lot of empty tin cans and other debris are often found about the bottom of the fence.

Cleveland was playing the Boston nine. "Jim" McAleer came to bat for the Ohio city. He knocked a long liner to left field and the ball rolled up under the fence and straight into an empty tomato can.

Hugh Duffy was fielding the left garden for the Beaneaters. He grabbed the can and tried wildly to dig the ball out. Meanwhile McAleer was running to second. Finally, growing desperate, Duffy threw can and all over to third base, from which McAleer had just started for home. The third baseman hurled the can enclosing the ball to the catcher and the latter touched the runner out with it.

There was a loud protest from the Cleveland nine, and the umpire finally decided that McAleer was safe and the run must count, because the rules provide that the runner must be touched by the ball.

A LITTLE DOPE.

Lon Hedges, who has been out with the Jackson team, returned yesterday with them and on application at the depot found his pass to Milwaukee here and left today at noon for Minneapolis where he will pitch his first game. Hedges has many friends here who will be pleased to see him win out. He has the speed and the curves and local professional players say he will no doubt "make good."

Hedges was offered $100 a month by Jackson to pitch exclusively for that team and would have signed had he not been called to Milwaukee.

Frank Thorpe, late of the Michigan league, is in the city and will probably be given a trial in the local team. Thorpe is an infielder and has played in the Interstate, Eastern, California, Western and Michigan state leagues and is considered one of the fastest league ball players in the minor leagues. Last year he played with Lansing, Mich., and has a record for hitting.

Henderson seems worried because some of the Paducah papers occasionally get the percentages mixed. So far as Paducah is concerned, few people here would not prefer to see Henderson at the head of the list to Cairo, Theatrical Notes.

One of the most striking ensemble numbers introduced in Low Dockstadler's new minstrel show represents a love scene entitled "Moonlight on the Mississippi." It is the work of Cole and Johnson Brothers, the gifted composers of "The Congo Love Song," "Under the Bamboo Tree," and other big hits of the day. Another novel idea is a transformation scene, which is the setting for a song by Horwitz and Bowers, entitled the "Story of the Sunflower," which is sung by Manuel Romane. The climax of the song shows the entire stage radiant with the wild beauty of a thousand sunflowers.

The Seward Show is going to make tonight a ladies' free event and ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by either lady or gentleman with a paid ticket. This offer is made by Mr. Seward as a compliment to the ladies for past favors and as there is no restriction as to the number of free tickets sold, or the hour when they are purchased, the Casino should be too small to hold its audience tonight. The play for tonight is the beautiful story of "In Illinois."

The indications are that all the members of the "Faust" company will go to Fulton with the company Wednesday night. Thus far none have signified their inability to go down with the company, and a large house and first class performance is anticipated. Tonight there will be a meeting at Mrs. Thompson's, on Jefferson street, to make arrangements.

Edward Garvie, who was in Paducah last season as "Mr. Jolly of Joliet," came very near being arrested the other day. Mr. Garvie went into a temperance hotel in a small town in New Hampshire, where he has been rusticated, and asked for an oyster cocktail. He explained matters.

The Deal orchestra has finished its season at the Casino theater and played the last time Saturday night. The piano will be used exclusively hereafter.

Walker Whiteside will play a dual role in a new comedy by Lieutenant Gordon Kean, of the English army, entitled, "We Are King," next season.

Prof. Wm. Deal is able to be out after a several days' illness.

but the fact remains that Henderson can't touch Cairo when it comes to fast ball playing.

The Sterlings have been disbandled and the members will join other local amateur teams. This was perhaps the strongest amateur team in the city. The battery, Brabie and Brabie, will probably go with the Lax Fox team, Mr. S. H. Winsted's team, now under course of organization.

Wilson will probably go to Hopkinsville to pitch. Wilson has played ten games in the Owensboro and Paducah teams and lost but one. He pitched six games here winning four, tying one and losing a practice game at Jackson. At Owensboro he won every game he pitched.

Mr. Joe Bishop, who has been playing excellent amateur baseball, left today for Vicksburg, Miss., to work. His many friends here will regret to learn of his departure. He is about the best amateur catcher here and was a regular member of the Pepsol team.

The Coco Colas defeated the Deep Rocks at Wallace park yesterday morning by a score of 7 to 2. The grounds were in good condition and the game was a fast one for amateurs.

Ben Boyd's colored club beat the Hopkinsville club by a score of 4 to 1 Saturday. The game was played in one hour and seven minutes, breaking the local record.

MAY RESIGN.

BUT PRESIDENT HAS NOT DECIDED HE WILL.

It is reported that President Ben Weille of the Paducah Baseball Association contemplates resigning because of his desire to devote his attention to business, and is understood he has informed some of his intimate friends that he intends to quit.

To a reporter, however, President Weille said he had not decided to resign. The baseball question has caused him a great deal of annoyance and taken a great deal of time from his business, but President Weille has not fully decided to step down and out, although many of his friends think it is probable he will.

By "X-Rays."

Just for once won't you try a pair of shoes that are not made from guesswork measurements of what your foot ought to be, but from "X-ray" photographs of what women's feet really are?

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe is exactly shaped to the bones, muscles, and ligaments of the foot, as they are plainly revealed by "X-ray" photograph. This is the explanation of why you hear so much talk on all sides about the wonderful "Fit of a 'Dorothy Dodd.'" The shoe deserves its popular nickname of "an arrangement in comfort." But all this is of no help to you unless you own a pair. On the day you buy them you will learn a new lesson in Foot Comfort.

After that, no one can sell you any other shoe but a "Dorothy Dodd."

Sincerely yours,

DOROTHY DODD.
